Overall Judgement In Progress

- The school has made partial improvements to its performance, by implementing a set of procedures to address some of the last review recommendations, such as the one related to enhancing students' personal development.
- The school has utilised the self-evaluation results in developing its plans, by focusing on priorities and including procedures that have led to appropriate improvements in students' behaviour and personal characteristics, enhanced students' academic standards, and developed the teaching and learning processes in some lessons.
- Students have demonstrated appropriate progress in acquiring knowledge and skills in some lessons, due to the effectiveness of the teaching, learning, and assessment practices.
- The school should continue its effort to provide professional development programmes for teachers and further monitor their performance in employing effective teaching strategies, and in addressing shortcomings in lesson management to increase their productivity and delivery in an organised manner. Alongside with implementing more effective assessment methods in majority of lessons, particularly in English.
- The school needs to continue to address the review recommendations to achieve further improvement, contributing to improving the school's overall performance. The school will be scheduled for a regular review for the next review visit.
