Overall Judgement

In Progress

- The school has succeeded in making partial improvements to its performance and addressed some recommendations provided in the latest review; especially those relating to promoting the effectiveness of teaching practices in some lessons and equipping students with basic skills.
- The school has set its goals according to development priorities and rebuilt its plans accordingly, focusing on improving students' achievement standards and teachers' professional development. This has contributed to achieving partial improvements in some aspects of schoolwork, particularly in the effectiveness of learning procedures in the majority of Arabic lessons and some mathematics lessons.
- The school should continue its efforts to raise student standards in core subjects, in the majority of lessons in the Primary and Middle stages, especially in English; and improve their level of progress in lessons and school programmes, particularly for the low achieving students.
- The school should continue providing professional development programmes for teachers and focus more on developing the effectiveness of teaching practices in lessons.
- The school should continue to address the recommendations to achieve the desired level of improvement, and it will be scheduled for a regular review in the next review visit.
